Gdańsk University of Technology, Narutowicza 11/12, 80-233 Gdańsk, Poland

In 2022, meeting/conference of the Computational Atomic Structure (CompAS) group will be held in Poland from Saturday, 1st October, to Monday, 3rd October, and will be hosted by the Gdańsk University of Technology (Gdańsk Tech, part of the Fahrenheit Universities). As usual, participation is free, but participants are covering their own expenses. We shall start with a dinner + beer on Friday evening. The main venue will be the Eureka Sopot – a modern, newly renovated hotel, restaurant and conference center of astounding architecture, belonging to Gdańsk Tech. The University will provide us financial support for coffee breaks, lunch-sandwich breaks, conference dinner (free for all participants), and hotel discount rates. One lecture day will be held at the Gdańsk Tech Campus, one of the most beautiful in Europe.

Sopot is a well-known health resort, heart of the Tri-City metropolitan area (Gdańsk-Sopot-Gdynia), famous for the longest wooden pier in Europe (see the photo) and the student's nightlife during weekends. Eureka Sopot is located in the suburban area of residential villas, approx. 15 min. walk from the city center and the pier, and only 50 m from the Baltic Sea. The distance to the Gdańsk Tech Campus is approx. 7 km, and to famous Gdańsk Old City approx. 10 km.
